PRODUCT INFORMATION

An Inspired Approach to Personalized Skin Care sensé

Skin care experts believe that your skin reflects personal health. Proper nutrition and exercises regularly are delivering the best visible results for skin care. Developed by USANA Health Sciences, Sense products are formulated to properly nourish and hydrate your skin's cells.

Sense beautiful science skin-care products offer an innovative approach to skin care. With groundbreaking, patented Self-Preserving Technology, Sense products contain no added chemical preservatives—meaning they stay fresh naturally—so they are more gentle and healthy for even the most sensitive skin. Our skin-care specialists have carefully formulated exclusive antioxidant complexes in every product using ingredients proven to revitalize skin cells, leaving skin looking younger and more radiant.

Science-Based Skin Care

Proflavanol T:

- Whole-grape shield against the effects of free radicals
- Green-tea extracts soothe environmental stress
- Vitamin E (tocopherol) helps skin retain its vital moisture.

Proteo-C:

- Vitamin C blend offering powerful beauty therapy that helps skin look younger and brighter as it defends against elements such as sun, stress, and pollution that can damage collagen and accelerate the visible signs of aging.
- Amino acids; proline and glycine, also deeply moisturize skin and help control the skin's pH balance

Reginosome:

- Regenisomes enzyme technology is an anti-aging oceanic enzyme complex that helps speed the skin's recovery from environmental damage, helping to repair the look of aging
- Delivering cellular protection and recovery from sunlight (UVA and UVB)

Dermal Surface Renewal (DSR) Technology:

- Marine-source complex that gently boosts smooth texture, helping restore the look of young skin.
- Skin brighteners help counteract age spots, blotchiness, and mottled texture for improved clarity and luminosity.
- DSR contains MMP inhibitors that reduce the activity of these enzymes, so your skin looks younger for years ahead.

Self-Preserving Technology:

- Sense skin care products revolutionary U.S. patented self-preserving technology.

SELF-PRESERVING TECHNOLOGY

Preservatives are important for preventing bacteria and mold growth in a product. Sense products contain no added chemical preservatives—meaning they stay fresh naturally. There are 6 aspects of self-preserving technology to protect product quality.

1. Processing:

Sense has its own factory with specific design. All products are produced in a control area to ensure purity and without any contaminations.

2. Packaging:

Sense uses packaging / one-way pump which has specific design to minimize the risk of contaminations from the environment.

3. Active ingredients:

Many active ingredients in Sense products contain natural compounds which have antibacterial properties. They also provide benefits for healthy skin and preserve products.

4. pH control:

Carefully controlling pH for gentle formulas helps promote a calm, healthy complexion. pH balance can prevent bacteria and mold growth in a product.

5. Water availability:

Microorganisms need water for growth and development. So Sense chooses herbal extracts and glycerin to restrict water content which is moist for skin but not enough for bacterial growth.

6. Groundbreaking liquid crystal:

Groundbreaking liquid crystals that mimic the skin's own structure act as "packets" carrying purifying botanicals and antioxidants to keep each Sense product fresh.

Sense delivers visible results while being better for you.

Following the Sense ultimate beauty regimen, you can experience smoother, more radiant skin. When the Basics and the Enhancers are used together, the results are proven to be remarkable within 2 weeks.
